VOL. XIV.—NO. 109. PORTLAND, OREGON: THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1874. PRICE—TEN CENTS.

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Railway Accident.

TRACTER, N. Y., June 9.—A coach of an excursion train jumped the track at Lebanon Hollow last evening. Thirty persons were more or less severely injured.

Republican Congressional Convention in Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURG, June 9.—The Republican Congressional Convention to-day nominated Hon. James S. Negley from the Twenty second District and Col. John Hay from the Twenty third District. The Texas Rayne from the Twenty third District. The convention adopted a resolution favoring the proper encouragement of trans continental lines of railway now projected.

Massachusetts Honors the Memory of her Dead Statesman.

BOSTON, June 9.—The commonwealth of Massachusetts paid tribute to the memory of Sumner to-day. Faneuil Hall, which was elaborately and tastefully draped in black, and the State House were also draped. George William Curtis was orator of the occasion.

The Great Bridge over the Mississippi, at St. Louis, Completed.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—The first train consisting of two locomotives and three passenger cars containing a number of invited guests and press representatives crossed the bridge across the Mississippi river this morning, testing the track just completed. A number of engineers were on the train. All were greatly pleased with the solidity of the structure.

Lynching in Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, June 9.—Thirty disguised men on Saturday night took from Wilmansborough an Indian named A. B. and Tom North who murdered and robbed two Portland men on Bayou Macon a month ago.

Disturbance in New York.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Some striking laborers made an attack to-day on Italians who had taken their places, and two of the latter were fatally wounded. Fenton and Jourdee Communists called a meeting in London.

Massacre of Christians in China.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The French papers publish a letter written by the Bishop of Haranda upon the massacre of Christians at Tong King. The Bishop says, but that 30,000 have been strangled, burned or drowned and adds he has no hope of escaping a similar doom. This startling communication bears no date, but is generally credited in France.

Reunion of Old-Line Abolitionists.

CHICAGO, June 10.—The national reunion of old line Abolitionists met in this city to-day. Seventy-five hundred delegates mostly from Western States were in attendance. Addresses were delivered mainly of a reminiscent character by the veteran Giddings, the Rev. Goodell, one of the anti slavery pioneers, Blanchard President of Wheaton College, and others. Letters were read from Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Wendell Phillips, T. W. Higginson, Edward Wright and Bishop Cheney of the Reformed Episcopal Church in the West.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The conference currency bill reported by Norton yesterday provides for free banking and the reduction of greenbacks to eighty-four millions, two-thirds of the amount of bank notes that may be issued. It abolishes bank reserves on circulation provides that banks shall keep five per cent of their circulation in the treasury of the United States for redemption of their notes, which is to be counted as part of their reserve on deposits thus placed, diminishing the amount of reserves on demand deposits which they are required to keep at home to ten per cent of five per cent and this provision will have the effect to liberate [what?] from greenbacks at once. It provides also for the conversion of from three to twenty per cent bonds, which is to be optional with the holders. The conversion of greenbacks with five per cent. bonds on the 1st of January, 1875, the notes converted to be issued in payment of redemption of outstanding 5-20 bonds at par, or in payment of current expenses of the Government, and if received in pay of exchanges, a like amount of gold in the treasury is to be used in redemption of 5-20 bonds at par.

CHICAGO, June 10.—A Washington special says the conference currency bill will undoubtedly pass both Houses by a large majority. A great deal of speculation is indulged in as to its reception by the President. In conversation with a prominent Republican yesterday he said he would not approve any measure bill that did not provide for a return to specie payments during his administration.

Erie Railway Matters.

NEW YORK, June 10.—In relation to the rumors regarding the future operations of the Erie railroad, the officers say that the plans adopted in view of the success of the new loan, are to be fully carried out, and that all reports to the contrary have no foundation. Work on the double track road bed is proceeding with dispatch, and the change from the broad to the narrow gauge will be made as soon as practicable. Ten locomotives have been built with a view to this change.

That Vote for Postmaster—Senator Hipple Meets His Reward.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Senator Mitchell of the Committee on Appropriations, was before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections to-day, and in answer to charges relating to the alleged scandal connected with his early life, he insisted and that hanged the fullest investigation into the charges preferred against him. The Committee privately considered the matter and unanimously came to the conclusion that there was not sufficient basis for any charge preferred against Mitchell to justify any further investigation and directed their Chairman to report to the Senate accordingly.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

ASPINWALL, June 10.—The Pacific Mail steamship Colon arrived at Panama on the 8th, eleven days from San Francisco—the whole time was twelve days, including one day's stay at Acapulco.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The "Thunderer" on Certain Topics.

LONDON, June 9.—The Times, this morning in an article under the heading on a communication recently sent to various Powers by the Spanish Government says it is hinted that the time approaches when the Spanish Government must be received within the pale of nations on the terms of equality.

The Times in an article on the American pilgrimage to Rome, expresses surprise that a race pending itself on shrewdness and precision etc. thought should indulge in such an antiquated superstition. It says that after contrasting the desolation and wreck of the late Papal States with the evidence and fertility of American cities and youthful practical people, who are accustomed to judge of institutions by their results will find their minds disturbed.

A dispatch from Morocco says fifty of the Sultan's troops were killed and wounded in the attack on the city of Fez.

Certain Death between Starvation and English Troops.

LONDON, June 10.—6 A. M.—Dispatches from India report serious famine riots in the district near Darjeeling in Sikkim territory. The troops were ordered to fire on the rioters. A number were killed and wounded.

Spanish War News.

MADRID, June 9.—Latest advices from the scene of war in the North state that the Carlist forces are concentrating in entrenched positions near Estella in Navarre. The main body of the Republican army is still at Lomerena. The weather is stormy delaying a battle.

A Terrible River Murder in Russia.

NEW YORK, June 10.—A Russian paper has an account of a fearful steamboat explosion on the Volga while racing with another boat. The engines were torn into fragments. Five men were killed and eight injured, of whom eleven have since died. Fifteen passengers jump d into the river and were drowned.

A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENT.—Where one of the rebel dead is buried near Federal soldiers even in the churchyards of villages where prejudice lingers longest, his grave is never left without its fragrant flowers. That very snow which brings the mourner to linger over his own brave dead slowly to the ground has his enemy was a man like himself, a father, a lover, a patriot and a Christian—a Mason and Dixon's line. Nor do we believe that the day is hereafter feared will ever be unbejected to true political purposes. In the north both interest and principle urge to strongly the consolation of our returned brothers. Let us add to this, that the heavy brotherly feeling which was so rife everywhere before the war, and which made us fight battles so hard to fight. Those on whose graves we lay the fresh spring flowers to-day would be first to recognize the bravery of their foes and perhaps have struck hand in hand with them are now in the shadows of the unknown world to which they have gone.—New York Tribune May 30th.

BOOK PUBLISHERS WAR.—There seems to be a war between New York and Philadelphia houses over Victor Hugo's "Ninety Three," the result of which is a reduction of the price of a dollar book to twenty five cents. One feature of this comes the prospect of a little contest between the new house of Henry Holt & Co., of Boston and the Scribners. Holt & Co complain that they were the first to announce Jules Verne's new book, and that the Scribners violated the courtesies of trade by announcing it after them and have refused to take any notice of their announcement.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Another suicide was reported at the office of the Chief of Police to-day—that of George S. Hill, employed as bookkeeper for H. Seller & Co. It is stated that he took poison. Cause unknown. This is the third case of the kind since yesterday.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—It is believed by the friends of young McDonald who shot himself yesterday afternoon that he was attacted to commit the fatal deed by reason of unrequited love. This night's work is the case of suicide within two days with several ineffectual attempts thrown in.

The U. S. steamer Narragansett arrived last night from a two months surveying cruise on the Gulf of California.

Weather to-day quite warm with a light northwest wind.

The wholesale and retail liquor dealers are taking active measures to oppose the local option law. They generally favor and openly electioneer, as their business suffers from the state of uncertainty in which they are placed.

Many persons in this city state that they felt shocks of an earthquake at the same time they were experienced at Mission San Jose.

Interior California.

MISSION SAN JOSE, June 10.—At quarter to 5 o'clock two strong shocks of an earthquake, lasting quite a while and running from south to north occurred here. The weather has been extremely warm here for the last two days the thermometer as high as 86° in the shade. The grain is ripening fast and the farmers are busy getting ready for harvest, anticipating a very large yield.

COLUSA, June 10.—Harvesting does fairly commenced. Grain yielding more than was expected.

ARIZONA.

PRESCOTT, June 10.—The Arizona Miner has the following, in relation to Eskimanzin, one of the most daring and cunning of Apache chiefs, who was recently captured by the troops. This Chief who is one of General Howard's favorite Apaches upon first hearing the result of the Howard court of inquiry said Howard was glad his friend (that General) had succeeded in hiding the trail to his plunder. He (Eskimanzin) was just like Howard—anxious to make an honest living by stealing—but unlike Howard in this that he could not fool General Crook as Howard has fooled the four others who said he was not responsible, or words to that effect. Eskimanzin is now in the guard-house at Camp Grant and will soon ask General Howard to loan him his court of inquiry.

TUCSON, June 10.—News from San Pedro says that Friday last a man named Holmes shot and killed M. B. Duffield. The trouble originated over the title to the Bronc mine. It appears that in Duffield's arrival near the mine he was met by Holmes armed with a shotgun who asked Duffield if he had come to drive him off. Without replying Duffield walked steadily toward Holmes, who told him several times to stop and not come any nearer. Duffield without any weapons in his hands continued to advance, when Holmes fired the fatal shot.

SAN DIEGO, June 10.—The San Diego Union correspondent writing from Pres Sonora, May 23d, gives the following:

In the district of Altare there have been more Apache depredations. The municipal President gives notice that five or six Apaches made a raid on the hacienda of Bibodomarin, on the 1st instant and stole some valuable horses, and that they or another party of about the same number killed a man and woman near there at a place called Las Pedrudre. The Prefect being absent the President of the municipality sent word to all families to be on their guard and started ten National men in pursuit. Near this city near Pedero about thirty Apaches were seen by the people who went for ammunition, not being sufficient. A Mexican named Verdugo and Pando were killed by the Apaches near Agua Blanca recently. The poor fellow who leaves a wife and several children was traveling between Sonora and Los Monis. Dave when he was killed. All his animals, clothing, etc. were taken by the Indians. Montezuma and Apaches all have been quiet of late.

Lieut. Commander Pender has been a general favorite in Victoria, and his departure will be regretted by all classes.

THE BULLETIN'S ATTACK ON THE OREGON PIONEER ASSOCIATION

A SELF-CONFESSED LIAR MISTAKES FACTS—THE ACTION OF THE ASSOCIATION HANDSOMELY VINDICATED.

PORTLAND, June 10, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

My attention has just been called to an editorial article published in the Daily Bulletin of the 8th inst., in which the editor makes very ungentlemanly attack upon the Executive Board of the Association of Oregon Pioneers for having announced as speakers on the occasion of its approaching reunion at Aurora some of the honored members of that organization.

The editor says:

The manager of the concern for their conduct in the matter. If it be a crime in the Pioneer who pull down the Democrat, we can only say that there are a few Democrats who are Pioneers, and politicians and Democratic office holders. Why not bring to the front some of the actual pioneers of Oregon? They embrace the long wagon and Cape Horn or the fraziers or the overland journey.

When and by what mysterious avenue did those gentlemen brought by the managers so conspicuously to the front, find ingress to this happy land?

The managers appointed Rev. J. L. Parrish officiating Chaplain of the Association because the position was due to him as one of the earliest pioneer ministers now living in Oregon, he having arrived in the Territory by the way of Cape Horn in 1837. The managers invited Hon. Stephen L. Gaudaul to fill the office of annual address—first because he was a member of the Association and by reference to our register it will be found that he immigrated to and settled in the Territory of Oregon in the year 1839. He is eminently qualified for the duty which the managers respectfully requested him to perform.

Governor Grover has been requested to be present at the reunion and address the Pioneers from the fact that he is Governor of the State called into existence by the energies of toil and privation endured by the very men and women to whom his remarks will be addressed. And besides the above consideration he is a pioneer by reason of twenty three years residence.

Judge Deady came to Oregon in 1849 encountering the hazards of the overland journey, and he is now the sole representative of the national judiciary in the State. He is a pleasant genial gentleman, to whom the Pioneers will delight to listen.

Hon. John Minto is also a member of the Association. He came to Oregon in company with the writer, in 1844, and is a pioneer in every sense of the term. And the above mentioned names will shine bright upon the pages of Oregon's history and be pronounced with pride by coming generations when the place that now knows their present maligners shall hear their names no more forever.

I feel it to be my duty, as one of the "managers to" whom the editor of the Bulletin refers, to say to our old pioneer friends wherever they may now reside at the business meetings of the Board no word of politics in connection with the Association or political sentiments of those who were selected to perform the respective duties assigned them has ever been uttered. How good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.

We of course expect justice from the Oregonian, the pioneer paper of our State.

Yours truly,

WILLARD H. KELLY.

CLOSE OF THE MALHEUR WAR

Since my last recounting the stirring scenes on the Malheur we have closed forever the most bloody (less) war ever experienced in Grant county. After the tumultuous powwow and excitement reported in my last we retired gracefully from the scene corralled and picketed our horses, gave them an extra cut with promise of more of their future good behavior and calmly awaited the result. We watched with anxious eye the issue of Mack & Mack, to the noble courage and trembled as we beheld the ravenous and voracious manner in which he tore asunder the horns of the defunct ox devouring said horns wholesale without even a wink or a look of gratitude from his demoniac countenance although the ox was all that a first class tan yard could desire the hide was good, and no doubt the horns were delicious—mi-hum. I don't think that even in Emperor Nortons' great work on the aborigines of this coast has ever given them credit for gratitude and he is good authority on that commodity. I did not observe much of the other parts of the ox not having my eye glasses with me, or a magnifying glass—not that I had any desire to magnify—never did unless it was a ten dollar piece and it very refreshing to be able to magnify that, but not being in the Indian Bureau I have no hopes of ever accomplishing the feat.

Well day after day we watched those rascally Indians. Even at night we sometimes were deprived of our natural rest thinking of them, and expecting every moment to see them come upon us en masse and forever destroy our chances of being able to use Hall's hair dye. Day after day and night after night this state of trepidation continued being made still worse by the departure of the Agent from the field of action to the bosom of his family.

What could we do with no him were the three calamity to come when he was away? Words cannot express the ghastly the terrible pantomime we were in. In truth we had twenty breech loading carbines, seventy rifles, revolvers and quantity of ammunition (under lock and key), a boat (borrowed from the carpenter) and a quill pen—the last item being a gold substitute for pen—the last item being a gold substitute for pen—the last item being a gold substitute for

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING JUNE 11 1874

THE THIRD TERM AGAIN

Somebody at Washington City has again discovered and telegraphed it about the country that President Grant is shaping his course for a renomination There is a class of persons at Washington especially during the sessions of Congress who somehow manage to find out a great many things that are not true These discoveries generally relate to the events that have just happened in the Departments or the White House but which have not been made public or to the plans and purposes of persons prominently connected with the Government As we remarked the things which these people find out and give to the press world outside for the secret matters of the Administration, are generally fictitious We are constrained to believe this discovery of Grant's designs upon the Presidential Chair for a third term, are of this character Grant is not an absolute idiot Some people in this country who came to possess ordinary intelligence themselves, regard him as a person of quite respectable parts We have heard it asserted that the President of these United States has on several occasions shown himself no mean half hand at setting a sail to catch the breeze of public sentiment an act which implies some degree of aptness to perceive the exact direction in which that breeze is blowing Now, in order to give any credit whatever to the stories of Grant's scheming for a third term, one has first to assume either that he has no natural power whatever to perceive the drift of popular sentiment, or that he is gone mad for there can hardly be another man in all this country but who sees as plainly as if it were a matter already passed into history that the idea of a third term would be scouted by nine tenths, if not ninety-nine hundredths, of the Republicans as well those who are friendly to President Grant as those who are unfriendly To bring him forward again would be just equal to surrendering to the opposition without firing a shot

No one who has read the OREGONIAN heretofore will suppose we are in the least hostile to President Grant We have frequently said that he has in most respects made the nation a good President We believe the impartial historian of the times will place President Grant on the list of those rulers who surrounded by corruption on every hand, have not been direct partakers therein and that while sins of omission may be set down to his account, the instances of positive wrong committed by him will be found rare indeed This is our opinion of President Grant, and we believe it is an opinion we entertain in common with a large majority of the intelligent of all parties in the United States But to think Grant is a good President, to admire him and his administration even, is a widely different thing from endorsing the proposition to run him a third time The country may indorse his past administrations but it would repudiate his renomination with one united shout of indignation and to assume that he does not know it is to assume that he has lost all his common sense

But the fact is this revival of third term talk is nothing but a returning echo of the Cæsarism nonsense started by the New York Herald last year, purely for the purpose of creating a sensation and taken up by most of the opposition press, for no particular reason only because the Herald had started it, and because it offered occasion for unfriendly remarks about the President There is not, and never has been, the slightest evidence of an intention on the part of President Grant to seek re-election

RECIPROCITY WITH THE DOMINION

For some time negotiations have been pending at Washington for the restoration of the treaty of commercial reciprocity between the United States and Canada When it was first rumored that such negotiations had been set on foot the newspapers about the Capitol contradicted the report, saying that as the treaty would affect the revenues of the Government, the President would not entertain any propositions on the subject without first submitting the matter to Congress But it is now an open secret that the reports were true and that the friends of reciprocity have been pressing the project with great earnestness, bringing forward every possible argument in its favor and collecting statistical information in relation to the trade between our country and Canada, from 1820 down to the present time from which to show that the free interchange of the merchantable commodities of the two countries has always operated to the advantage of the United States, while the imposition of duties has had an effect exactly opposite

The negotiations are conducted on the part of the United States by Secretary Fish in person for England by Sir Edward Thornton British Minister, and for the Dominion by Mr Brown a member of the Dominion Parliament, who is specially deputed for the purpose It transpires also that the Canadian representative backed by the entire strength of his Government is extremely anxious to have the treaty re established, and has presented an exhaustive statement in its favor based upon the statistical facts above referred to Still he does not admit that he is very desirous of having it go through, he merely says that if the United States shall see proper to restore the treaty of reciprocity the Dominion will accept that in lieu of the rent for the shore fisheries about the mouth of the St Lawrence which was provided for in the Treaty of Washington It will be remembered that in the Treaty of Washington it was stipulated that for the use of these fishing grounds and the privileges to the adjacent shore for purposes connected with the fishing business the United States should pay to the Dominion such sum annually as might upon fair and careful investigation appear to be a reasonable rental I s a gentleman of some legal reputation and acknowledged familiarity with the subject matter was sent out from England to work up the case and prepare a statement accompanied with proper evidence, of what would be considered a reasonable rental for the fishing privilege This gentleman has been busily engaged in the preliminary work of his mission, that is, in collecting comparing and arranging an immense mass of information bearing upon the question submitted to him but his estimate has not yet been made up or at least is not made public He is now resting on his oars to await the result of the effort to exclude this unsettled rental account for a treaty of reciprocity But those who are in situations to know most in regard to his views on the subject of anybody knows anything about them, state their own estimates without presuming to compromise him, at the enormous sum of $500,000 a year This figure astonishes everybody, upon first seeing it and, of course is not to be allowed as anything like a reasonable demand but it is named all through the arguments in favor of the treaty as the sum from which our Government is to be released in case the treaty be made

The New York press while not agreeing to the correctness or reasonableness of the amount suggested as the rental value of the fishing ground and privileges appear pretty nearly unanimous in favor of the restoration of the treaty, and among the northwestern newspapers it finds many warm advocates The commodities that are most affected in the market by the present tariff are not the luxuries of the rich but the necessaries of the poor and it is strongly urged that all restrictions and regulations that increase the price of these, should be removed, so far as relates to the commerce between countries so intimately connected with each other in business affairs as the United States and British North America So it appears by no means improbable that the trade between these two sections of what is in fact but one country, is to be placed again upon its old ante rebellion footing

A CRUEL PERSECUTION

The New York Times goes after Mayor Havemeyer for nominating, and the Board of Aldermen for confirming as Police Commissioner, a man who has lived under an assumed name the difference only in a single letter from the true name Says the Times, with a sneer that expresses more contempt and disgust than could be expressed in any other way

Once a man who has found it convenient to live under a false name been appointed a Police Commissioner of New York "

All of which demonstrates how great is the difference between the narrow minded and straight haired race that inhabit New York and the generous souled and cultivated people of our own beloved Oregon A Police Commissioner only, and nothing to charge worse than that he changed a letter of his name, and for nothing but this the prudish New York now stands at an angle of supreme disgust! Police Commissioner, indeed! Why, they may commit all the high crimes and misdemeanors in the catalogue, and then take a false name on purpose to hide from justice, and then crawl into the very U S Senate as our representative in that august body, and we think not much of it These things are the merest trifles, and it all becomes a great journal like the Times to object to men upon such frivolous grounds It is persecution, and nothing else Police Commissioner, forsooth! Is that the way a man is to be served whose offense is no more than the single youthful indiscretion of rearranging his name? It may do for New York, for New Yorkers are but a slow race of Low Country Dutchmen at best, but we don't have any such nonsense out here They may turn up their supercilious metropolitan noses at the Mayor for appointing this man with an alias as Police Commissioner, as much as they please, but if the gentleman who is thus persecuted over the shoulders of the Mayor will come out to this State we will send him back to the high-toned, self righteous snobs with the honors of a United States Senator resting upon him, and teach his unprincipled maligners that somebody in this world besides themselves know a thing or two on moral questions

Our table of the vote on the State ticket is omitted this morning Official returns from Columbia county increase LaDow's majority in that county 21 votes This reduces Williams majority in the State to 49 with Jackson Josephine Coos Curry and Tillamook to hear from Readers of the OREGONIAN will understand that we have thus far in our tabular statement published only those returns which have come to this office accompanied by some evidence of correctness Thus when we say that according to our present count Williams majority in the State is 49 it must be remembered that Jackson county for which a Democratic majority of 300 is claimed is not included in this count Coos Curry and Tillamook will each give Williams a small majority so that the race will be a very close one

GRANT ON THE NATIONAL FINANCES

The following is the memorandum referred to in the dispatch as ground for supposing President Grant is aspiring to a third term

Washington June 5—Senator Sherman has obtained permission from President Grant to publish the following memorandum prepared by the latter expressing his views on the financial question

I believe it to be (says the President) the high and plain duty to return to specie basis at the earliest practicable day I would do it in compliance with legislation and party pledges but as speedily and easily possible for the least national property I believe further that the time has come when it is practicable at least begun with little derangement to every branch of industry Many of the best informed men in the country have expected this step to be taken at the end of the year after the resumption act of 1875 But the amount of currency required to do the business of the country has increased more than was anticipated when that act was passed and will probably require more than the amount provided by that act to be issued before the time arrives for redemption Such legislation would insure a return to sound financial principles in two years and would in my judgment work less hardship to the debtor interest than is likely to come from putting off the day of final reckoning It must be borne in mind too that the creditor interest had its day of disadvantage when our present financial system was brought into the supreme courts of the nation I would further provide that from and after the 1st day of January 1876 the Treasury shall be exchanged for United States bonds as presented by bills of less denomination than five dollars bills of which shall be withdrawn from circulation and in two years all bills of less than ten dollars shall be withdrawn The advantage of this would be the stress given to the convertibility of debt as a result from failure of crops or any other cause by keeping always in the hands of the people a large supply of the precious metals With all the smaller transactions conducted in coin many millions of it would be kept in constant use and of course prevent it from leaving the country Giving additional employment as experience can it seems to me be secured and panics and depressions which have occurred periodically in times of commercial speculations may if they cannot be wholly prevented can at least be greatly mitigated Indeed I question whether it would have been found necessary to depart from the standard of specie in the trying days which gave birth to the first legal tender act had the country had in the ground of no small bills as early as 1859

CITY.

A FORMER COMER TO GRIEF.—A few days prior to the election a man styling himself George Stemme arrived in this city from Walla Walla. Soon after he presented himself at Mr Weinhard the well known brewer's and handed him what purported to be a letter of introduction and signed by a gentleman of Walla Walla, with whom Mr Weinhard was well acquainted. The letter after introducing to Mr. Weinhard Geo Stemme proceeded to say that any favors shown him would be esteemed as a great personal accommodation. Stemme after Mr Weinhard had finished reading the letter remarked that he was a little short of circulating medium, and a temporary loan of about $20 would be of great pecuniary benefit to him. Without so much as giving a second thought as to the genuineness of the letter or introduction, Mr Weinhard put his hand in his pocket and handed Stemme a $20 gold piece. Just at that moment his attention was suddenly called to another part of the building, and dropping the letter Weinhard walked away. No sooner had he vanished from sight than Stemme picked up his counterfeit letter and disappeared. On returning Weinhard was surprised at the conduct of his new friend, although he made diligent and persistent search for Stemme his efforts were unrewarded. Stemme was observed to be in Portland on the day of election, but disappeared a few days after. Yesterday afternoon Stemme re-entered boldly into the First National Bank, handed the cashier a letter. The letter was directed to Mr Henry Failing and signed Commodore Spotts of San Francisco. The letter directed Mr Failing to send Stemme the sum of $100, and draw on him by telegraphic transfer. Mr Failing's attention was at once directed to the spurious looking letter, and the deception attempted to be practiced detected at a glance. Making some trivial pretext Mr Failing invited Stemme to step into his private office, and immediately sent off for Chief Lappeus. In a few minutes that officer arrived and took the would-be-gentleman (?) in custody. On his person was found a number of cards from business houses in Eugene, Salem, and Albany, and also that of a forged letter which had been presented to Weinhard. No money was found on his person. After arrest, it was ascertained that Stemme had been up to Albany and succeeded in "bilking" several parties. The strength of fraudulent letters has been taken under arrest he appeared very cool and collected and put on the air of outraged innocence. He was committed to jail, and examination of the case will be had this morning in the Police Court.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION.—Articles of incorporation of the First Ladies Hebrew Benevolent Society of Portland were filed yesterday in the office of the County Clerk. The incorporators of this new Society are Mrs S Solomon, Henrietta Bachman, Eliese Simon, Annie Meier, Ida Bergman and Mrs B Gilbert. The object and pursuit of this corporation is to aid, assist and relieve the poor needy and sick by contributions of money, provisions, clothing and other necessaries; to prepare the dead for burial, and to do all other acts and things usually done by charitable institutions. The estimated value of property and money owned by the Society is about the sum of $1,000 consisting of money in the hands of the Treasurer, and loaned by the Society upon promissory notes.

The source of income of this corporation is voluntary contributions from its members and other persons—mostly dues, fines, fees, etc.

Annual meetings of the Society will be held on the third Sunday of May, when the following officers will be elected: President Vice President, Treasurer and Secretary who shall hold their terms of office for one year.

The location of the Society shall be Portland.

The duration of this Society is perpetual.

BONDS FILED.—Mr Geo L. Story, County Clerk elect, filed his official bond as required by law yesterday in the Clerk's office. His bonds are $10,000, sureties D W Burnsides and Geo T Marshal. The bond was examined by the County Court and approved. Mr L J Jeffery Sheriff elect, also filed his bonds yesterday. The law requires the Sheriff to execute two official undertakings before entering upon the duties of his office. One is for the faithful discharge of all duties incumbent upon him as Sheriff, and the other is as tax collector. Under the State law the Sheriff is required to enter into a bond of $10 000. The County Court fixes the amount of the bond as circumstances governing themselves according to law. In this county the tax collector is required to give a bond of $50 000. The requirements of the law were faithfully complied with by Mr Jeffery. His sureties are Messrs A. N King, A P Ankeny, B Goldsmith, H Boyd, M S Burrell and E D Backinstos. The bond was examined by the County Court and approved.

AWARDED.—Bids for the construction of a barn and stables on the County Poor Farm were opened yesterday in the County Clerk's office. Mr John Oderkirk being the lowest responsible bidder, was awarded the contract at $[illegible]. The highest bid was about $1 500. The bond for the faithful performance of the work was given and approved by the County Court, and the work will commence at once and be pushed to an early completion.

COURT ADJOURNED.—County Court adjourned yesterday, after having been in session more than a week. The Court will meet for the first time on the 29th inst for the purpose of winding up its affairs and transacting all business remaining on hand at present. On the first Monday of July the new Board consisting of County Judge J H Woodward and Commissioners H. Hanson and C. Hylman will meet.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME.—The following programme will be discoursed at the plaza on this Thursday evening by the City Band. Grand March, American Medley—Cotz. Serenade Air, The Cuckoo Waltz, Faust Aria—from Trovatore—Balfe, Rosalind Mazourka (dedicated to Nellson) Brondecker. Bruder Lustig Galop, Faust. The band will play at the same place a week hereafter.

WILL REMAIN.—It is stated that Mr Winfield, who has lately arrived in our midst from Dundee, Scotland has rented office rooms in Flanders's new brick for the period of five years, and will remain here to represent the interests of capitalists associated with him in business, and who we understand have a large amount of money invested in various enterprises in this State.

WELL CONTEST.—Mr H S Allen the candidate for Constable in Morrison precinct at the late election, and defeated by his opponent C C Perry has notified the County Clerk in writing that he intends contesting his election upon the ground of his non-residence in the precinct.

CROWDED OUT.—The very crowded state of our columns precludes the publication of the usual hotel arrivals and various items of local interest. This is our apology.

MASONRY.

IMPOSING CEREMONIES OF THE INSTALLATION OF THE OFFICERS OF THE GRAND LODGE A F & A M OF OREGON HELD AT MASONIC TEMPLE JUNE 10 1874

Pursuant to previous notice the installation of the officers of the Grand Lodge of Masons, of Oregon took place at Masonic Hall last evening. The ceremonies of installation being public a very large number of friends of the Order attended and witnessed the proceedings with deep interest.

At 8 o'clock the officers and members of the Grand Lodge filed into the hall from the Lodge room in procession and were called to order by the Grand Master T Mel Patton. The choir then sang an anthem which was followed by prayer by the Grand Chaplain Rev G W Lyer.

The Grand Secretary then read from the records of the Grand Lodge the names of the officers who were elected to serve for the ensuing year. The Grand Master elect M W J B Congle preceded by the Grand Marshal was conducted by two Senior Deacons to the front of the pedestal. The Grand Marshal then addressed the presiding officer Bro I Mel Patton as follows:

Most Worshipful sir you have been called by the unanimous voice of the craft as their Grand Master to discharge the duties of the East during the ensuing year and the first task that has been imposed on you demands a corresponding fidelity and attachment to the interests of those to whose kindness and confidence you are indebted for your official elevation. Let the Book of Constitutions be your constant study that you may be the better enabled to preserve inviolate the laws and ancient landmarks of our Order and that you may be ever ready to exercise the functions of that more exalted office to which you are so justly to be called. Receive this jewel of your office and sit at our right hand to aid us with your counsel.

The Grand Marshal then presented Bro J H Runzie S G W elect and T H Cox J G W elect, for installation and to them the M W G M pronounced the following charges:

Very Worshipful Brother by the suffrages of your brethren you have been elected to the office of Senior Grand Warden and we now invest you with the badge of your office.

Your regular and punctual attendance at the communications of the Grand Lodge is earnestly requested. In the absence of your superior officers you are to govern the craft in their presence you are to support and support the authority of your chief.

We firmly rely on your knowledge of Masonry and your attachment to the Institution for the faithful discharge of the duties of this important trust.—Look well to the West.

Very Worshipful Brother by the suffrages of your brethren you have been elected their Junior Grand Warden and we now invest you with the badge of your office.

Your regular and punctual attendance at the communications of the Grand Lodge is earnestly requested. In the absence of your superior officers you are to govern the craft in their presence you will aid them in their arduous labors.

We have no doubt that you will faithfully execute the duties which are in unison on you in your present position.—Look well to the South.

The Grand Treasurer elect Bro D I Brown, being presented by the Grand Marshal the M W G M said:

Worshipful Brother you have been elected to the responsible office of Grand Treasurer and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

It is your duty to receive all moneys of the Grand Lodge to make due entries of the same and pay them out by order of the Grand Master and with the consent and approbation of the Grand Lodge. The office to which you have been appointed embraces an important trust and the choice of your brethren is an evidence of the high opinion they entertain of your fidelity and discretion.

We do not doubt that you will regard for the interests will prompt you to the faithful discharge of your duties.

Bro E P Earhart, Grand Secretary elect was then presented to the Grand Master, who said:

Worshipful Brother you have been elected to the important office of Grand Secretary and we now invest you with the jewel of your office.

In the discharge of your duties you will be required to lend the devotions of your heart to communications and to perform the sacred functions of your high calling in due solemn form. Though Masonry is not religion, its lessons and its teachings are all in favor of religion, and its altars should never be left with which disconnected. Your opportunity and intercourse with the world will furnish the appropriate lessons for your conduct in this regard. The profession which you have just entered upon is the best guarantee that you will be faithful to the duties and obligations of your office, and the discernment you have displayed in your selection of that high office.

Bro. T N Dolph Grand Orator was then presented by the Grand Marshal to the Grand Master. That officer delivered to him the following charge:

Worshipful officer you have been appointed at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge to the office of Grand Orator. It is your duty to furnish a true and faithful report of the proceedings of the Grand Lodge at each communication, and to perform such other duties as may be required of you by the Grand Lodge. You are to assist the Grand Lodge in the discharge of its duties, and to perform such other duties as may be required of you by the Grand Lodge. You are to assist the Grand Lodge in the discharge of its duties, and to perform such other duties as may be required of you by the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Marshal then proclaimed the officers of the Grand Lodge duly elected and installed and the Grand Lodge was then addressed by the Grand Orator as follows:

Brother you have been appointed Grand Marshal and I present you with the jewel of your office.

It is your duty to see that the Grand Officers and Grand Lodge are properly clothed and that the Grand Lodge is properly opened and closed. It is your duty to see that the Grand Officers and Grand Lodge are properly clothed and that the Grand Lodge is properly opened and closed.

Brother Marshal I commit to you the Grand Officers and Grand Lodge. You will duly invest the Grand Officers and Grand Lodge.

The retiring Grand Master Bro I Mel Patton arose and said:

Brethren you were here left by the pedestal Bro J B Congle who having been duly elected presiding over the craft as the first Past Master is to discharge him in all cases in relation to the installation. If any of you know of any reason why he should not be installed you will state your objections now or else forever hereafter hold your peace.

No objections being made the presiding Grand Master proceeded to administer to the newly elected officer the obligation for the faithful discharge of his duties. The new Grand Master then received the following charge and being invested with the insignia of his dignity was placed in the Grand Chair.

I take congratulate you Most Worshipful Sir on the honor of being raised from the level of equality to the high stage of presiding over all the lodges in the State of Oregon and the Masonic jurisdiction thereof. We look up with confidence to a brother whose person is endeared to us by the love of the fraternity which is sanctified by the experience of many revolving years. May the effulgent light of life and of love invest you with its choicest gifts, may heaven by wisdom illumine your mind, may your feet rest upon the rock of Justice, from your hands may streams of beneficence continually flow and round your head may there bend a circle made splendid by the rays of honor and immortality. In life may you be transmitted from the fading honors of an earthly Lodge to the mansions which are prepared for the faithful in a better world. Let me congratulate you the Grand Officers and other brethren on the election of our Grand Master. As it is our duty to meet according to our constitution so it is ours with readiness to obey. Look to the sun and behold the planetary world revolving around him in regular order and harmony with the happiest effect and learn to imitate their regularity in the hope of obtaining from the chief in Solomon the light of wisdom and the warmth of love. Or look higher still and behold the Cherubim and seraphim who are exhibited to us in the mysteries of revelation as flaming spirits burning with zeal and love before the throne of God. Behold the heavenly host filled with love to their Creator and love to our race. See these ministering spirits exercising their kind offices to men relieving their wants securing them from danger and endeavoring to promote their good.

"Myriads of spiritual beings walk the earth
Unseen or when we sleep or when we wake."

Of them let us learn to rise in our affection to the great Father of all and thence descending expand the heart from brother to brother and to all mankind. Of them let us learn never to be weary in well-doing but to mourn with them that mourn and rejoice with them that do rejoice. Until, having finished our work on earth we shall be admitted to the temple above "not made with hands eternal in the heavens."

M W Bro G M Stroud was then presented by the Grand Marshal and receiving the obligation of Deputy Grand Master was addressed by the Grand Master as follows:

Right Worshipful Brother the station to which you have been called by the suffrages of your brethren is one of great dignity and much importance in the absence of the Grand Master you are to exercise his prerogatives in presiding over the craft in his presence you are to assist him with your counsel and co-operation. But while your powers and privileges are thus extensive remember that they carry with them a heavy share of responsibility. The diligence that has been conferred upon you and the trust that has been reposed in you demand a corresponding fidelity and attachment to the interests of those to whose kindness and confidence you are indebted for your official elevation. Let the Book of Constitutions be your constant study that you may be the better enabled to preserve inviolate the laws and ancient landmarks of our Order and that you may be ever ready to exercise the functions of that more exalted office to which you are so justly to be called. The Grand Marshal then presented Bro J H Runzie S G W elect and T H Cox J G W elect, for installation and to them the M W G M pronounced the following charges:

Very Worshipful Brother by the suffrages of your brethren you have been elected their Senior Grand Warden and we now invest you with the badge of your office.

Your regular attendance at the communications of the Grand Lodge is essentially necessary. In the absence of the Grand Master and his Deputy you are to govern the craft in their presence you are to support and support the authority of your chief.

We firmly rely on your knowledge of Masonry and your attachment to the Institution for the faithful discharge of the duties of this important trust.—Look well to the West.

The Grand Marshal then proclaimed the officers of the Grand Lodge duly elected and installed and the Grand Lodge was then addressed by the Grand Orator who delivered the following

ADDRESS

Most Worshipful Grand Master Brethren of the Grand Lodge Ladies and Gentlemen.—The field of Masonic history and literature has been so often gleaned by more diligent hands and the tenets of Masonry so often expounded by abler workmen than myself that I confess I enter upon the duties of this occasion presuming more upon your partiality than relying upon my own skill and especially is this so when I call to mind the eloquent and distinguished brethren who in years past have filled acceptably to the craft and so creditably to themselves the place assigned to me to day. And I hope that when the square shall be applied to my work it shall not be found as perfect as that of my predecessors is at least will be found to contain something of value to the craft for instruction encouragement or excitement to a more strict obedience to the principles of our beloved Order and more earnest labor for its welfare.

In the midst of the Libyan desert in the oasis of Ammonium the ancient El Siwah Heretofore stood in all its magnificence the temple of Ammon, and here was the supposed Fountain of the Sun whose waters were warm in the morning and evening and cold at midday. While desolation and barrenness reigned supreme all around this fertile spot in the days of the Ptolemies and the Cæsars produced in profusion its fruits and grains and supplied the wants of the weary toil worn caravans halting in their journeys across the desert. The surprise and astonishment of a traveler wandering over the pathless desert when first beholding the beauty freshness and fertility of El Siwah with its cities temples groves and fountains fitly illustrates the feelings of the student of history seeking to trace upon its pages the origin of Masonry which first he beholds its outlines rising in moral beauty and grandeur amid the darkness of the remote past.

In the dark ages of the world's history at a time when might made right and violence was the rule when the world seemed immersed in the depths of ignorance, and every moral and social evil abounded Masonry stands like an inhabited and cultivated oasis in a desert. Glancing back along the history of the race. The first man was a law breaker, and the second a murderer. The first law was the law of might the first title to property the title of possession. Human laws are but the efforts of organized society to restrain the passions of men forced upon mankind by the necessity of self preservation. The propensity to evil in the hearts of men in all ages has defied the force and terror of the penalties of human laws. Bolts and bars, prisons and dungeons chains and gallows the gibbet and the rack have proven insufficient to change the character of man. Look abroad upon mankind. How like a great sea unceasingly tossed by the storm of passion how the waves of ambition chase each other towards the wished for goal how opposing interests and prejudices clash and the opposing currents meet and whirl and dash up the spray of wrecked hopes how the restless ever agitated mass surges up the mire of the undercurrents and discolors the whole mass of human society. In the midst of all this conflict of interests and opinions Masonry asserts its benign influences it soothes harmonizes, controls it teaches man to subdue his passions, to lay aside his selfishness to respect the rights and tolerate the opinions of his fellows. It levels the distinctions of rank and station among its votaries and puts the weak upon a level with the strong.

Dating its origin far back in the abyss of antiquity until it is lost in the confusion of tradition and clothed in a mantle of mystery it wends its way down the ages of the world, encircling the globe in all countries and at all times. No human laws are of any validity if contrary to this and such of them as are valid derive all their force and their authority mediately or immediately from this law.

It is scarcely possible but that with the utmost care some unworthy persons should be admitted into the Order. Actual moral purity is not distinguished from character or reputation like the internal qualifications can only be discovered by the statements of the candidate himself and therefore human law can provide no adequate safeguards from imposition. But that Lodges as responsible for which receives material unworthy of possessing the external moral qualifications required by Masonic laws.

No questions of convenience no ties of friendship no fear of offence no desire to advance the pecuniary interests of a Lodge should ever induce a Lodge to overlook a lack of the moral qualifications of a candidate. A disregard of the physical intellectual and political qualifications would be no greater an innovation upon the landmarks constitution or laws of the Order and would be far less dangerous in its results.

With such a comprehensive standard of morality it is idle to attempt to specify what are Masonic offences. It is well to say that they include not only violations of the laws of humanity but the infraction of the universal law of God. That evil which results in the embezzlement of the trust of the Order.

Thus it is that while the Masonic standard of morality is unchangeable, it is within the strictest limits by the Grand Master of the Universe Himself the keen and intelligence of man may nevertheless discover and condemn that infringement thus by which it may be rendered liable in the courts of the Order. It is well that it is more than any human code is adapted to the progress of civilization. Thus by which it may be rendered liable in the courts of the Order. It is well that it is more than any human code is adapted to the progress of civilization.

Brethren you have been appointed to the office of Grand Orator. It is your duty to furnish a true and faithful report of the proceedings of the Grand Lodge at each communication, and to perform such other duties as may be required of you by the Grand Lodge. You are to assist the Grand Lodge in the discharge of its duties, and to perform such other duties as may be required of you by the Grand Lodge

The general full continuation of the [illegible] spirit of some comment taken in the market until the future supply of available capital in the country. Will these two [illegible] seem ably [illegible] with each other shall have a co-existence is a problem to solve which would require arguments and explanations outside of our purpose at present but one great producing cause of these results may be given in a few words. The people of Oregon have too much off the labor of others or they import too much which they could and ought to produce at home. Though this condition of affairs cannot well be avoided in a new country where our State is now old enough to begin to [illegible] more of her own manufactures [illegible] carrying etc and we are glad to state that present indications for enterprises with these objects in view are better than ever before, and though the volume of trade in our market this spring has been small question of more moment to the interests of the people have been agitated than ever before and plans are being perfected that will tend to our commercial prosperity upon a broader scale than that upon which we have heretofore moved. The inauguration of a fleet line of ships to Liverpool and the building of the railroad to Salt Lake are two matters in which this people have a larger moneyed interest than in all others and the day that sees their accomplishment will mark an epoch in the commerce and history of our State. The attention of business men and statesmen is being turned to the resources and importance of this part of the country to a far greater extent than ever before and hence through trade has been dull we deem that it has been a good year so far for Oregon.

The dullness which has prevailed in real estate here during the past few months seems to have been general all over the country. In Boston the number of stores that are vacant is very large. The sudden rebuilding of the burned district is assigned as the cause of the dullness. In New York the number of unoccupied stores is reported by a gentleman of this city who devoted much of his time during a recent visit to that metropolis to a personal inspection of the real estate market to be surprisingly large. In Chicago St. Louis and New Orleans also a similar stagnation is observable. Large numbers of stores are vacant and whole blocks of dwelling houses are unoccupied.

European Grain Market.

As the probabilities affecting prices for grain in this country are largely affected by the prospects of crops in Europe we append a synopsis of reports gathered from our exchanges of the condition of cereals in those markets.

During the early part of May the weather in England was marked by a retrogression of temperature as unexpected as undesirable. The nights were frosty and a good deal of damage was done to the more forward vines and fruit trees. But little damage seems to have been done the meadows and none to Corn except on the lands. The very dry weather while in itself a source of injury to the growing crops was in reality a preventive of greater damage by the frosts. At the date mentioned above the absence of rain was causing uneasiness and the crops were sustaining injury for want of sufficient moisture.

The arrival of breadstuffs off the coast of Great Britain from May 1st to May 8th were 84 cargoes, 15 of which were Wheat, 13 Corn 5 Barley and 1 Beans. The imports into the United Kingdom the week ended May 2d were 71 588 cwts Wheat and 184,319 cwts Flour. The offerings of native Wheat at the interior towns during the week ended May 9th were light and prices at the close were firmer and in places dearer.

The farmers deliveries in England and Wales the week ended May 1871 were 11 841 qrs less than the average deliveries the corresponding weeks 1870-74 inclusive. The average price at the same towns the week ended May 2 1874 was 7s 3d greater than the average price the corresponding weeks 1870-4 inclusive.

The farmers deliveries of homegrown grain in the 150 towns in England and Wales were 43 620 quarters wheat 9 283 quarters barley and 2 978 quarters oats, being a less quantity than for the same period in five years.

The imports and exports of breadstuffs into and from the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland for the week were as follows. Flour imports 184,319 cwts exports 1 474 cwts wheat imports 71,588 centals wheat exports 10 437 centals corn imports 235,226 cwts exports 5 848 cwts oats imports 328,947 cwts, oat exports 63 cwts.

In France during the week ended May 9 the growing wheat was generally doing finely the growth being healthy and vigorous. Rain fell in the early and middle portions of the week with great benefit to all the growing crops. Barley and oats since the rain are reported as doing well but it was feared that the rye had been injured by the frost. Some damage had also been done by the same cause to the growing corn especially in the valley of the Saone and in several localities the clover had been hurt in the same manner.

The receipts of wheat at Marseilles during the week were less than those of the preceding week while the sales were 45,000 quintals greater. The stock in the docks was 103 000 against 100 000 quintals the previous week. At Bordeaux there was no stock either in the docks or in the granaries.

Returns from 34 provincial markets indicate during the week an advance at 16 firm at 18 unchanged at 40, calm at 2, declined at 15.

The visible supply of grain including the stocks in granary at the principal points of accumulation at lake and seaboard ports in transit by rail, and frozen in transit on the New York canals was May 16 1874 9 831 295 bushels wheat 6 017 065 bushels corn 1 880 691 bushels oats and 202,263 bushels barley. This was more wheat than at the same time in 1873 by about 3,500 000 bushels and more corn by about the same quantity. The supply of oats was about half as great as in May 1873 and the barley was less than half.

Food and Digestion

In dyspepsia the gastric juice which should dissolve the food is only formed in small quantities, and whatever may be the feeling of emptiness in weakness in such case the dyspeptic should eat very sparingly. To remedy the evil the [illegible] membrane of the stomach which secretes and emits the gastric fluid should be stimulated and toned, and the best of the pills for this purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Not only does this admirable stomachic promote a full amount of supply of the solvent which converts the food into the [illegible] but it also [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
